When Dearing returned Morgan and his clothes had disappeared. Later in the day, Morgan, fully dressed, approached two boys near Tehachapi and asked them to help him get the handcuffs off. They refused. Morgan escaped recently from the Arizona state penitentiary.

CITY ORGANIZES TO BUILD HOMES

Council Bluffs Real Estate Board Makes Erection of Houses Easier

(By International News Service.) COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Oct. 5.—Council Bluffs, like most American cities, is desperately short of houses. But Council Bluffs, unlike most American cities, is not profiting in house rents to any great extent.

A house that before the war rented for $25, now rents for about $30, hardly enough to pay the increased taxes. Other rents are in proportion, with few exceptions.

There are several reasons, according to Council Bluffs business men, but the biggest one is the one that is usually blamed for causing profiteering, instead of credited with preventing it. It's the war.

UNITED BY WAR. Council Bluffs, they say, was welded into extraordinary unity and unselfishness by its war service. The way it took care of Company L, 168th Infantry, Rainbow division, has become famous. The chamber of commerce turned itself bodily into a military bureau and let its other departments go to such an extent that it is now finding it necessary to reorganize entirely to get back on a peace basis.

This reorganization is aimed as energetically at post-war problems as the other was at war problems. Robert B. Wallace, of Council Bluffs, was the man who headed the "Pottawamie County War Service Plan," and who was called to organize almost every county in Iowa when its efficiency was seen. He is also one of the city's biggest real estate men.

NO VACANT HOUSES. "There hasn't been a vacant house in Council Bluffs for over a year," he says, "and new industries are swarming in. One alone, the Griffin Wheel company, will bring 400 workmen."

"But the Council Bluffs real estate board, which includes every real estate man in the city, agreed absolutely, two months ago, to handle this situation without profit beyond the normal return of 6 per cent on the money invested."

"The board has bought the vacant lots around the site of the Griffin Wheel company plant, and will turn them over to the Housing association just organized by the chamber of commerce, at their actual value at the time of purchase."

The Housing association has got contractors to agree to build houses for the workmen on a basis of cost plus 10 per cent. The largest contractor in town has offered, if we prefer, to build the houses for us on salary.

250 MORE HOUSES. "Firms and individuals, with the help of the local Building and Loan association, are putting up about 250 four and five room houses to be sold at $2500 to $4000, on payments of $200 and $300 down and $25 a month."

"A $250,000 apartment house has been built principally by popular subscription. The first $100,000 of stock was sold in one week, to the general public. The apartments rent for $50 a month, with heat and light."

Council Bluffs lacks several other modern institutions, besides rent-protefters. It is said to have almost no radicalism. The switchmen's strike was voted down so decisively there that it never had a chance.

Police reporters complain that there is so little crime they can't scare up a good police story once in three months.

Last time today that wonderful picture, "Love, Honor and Obey," a Notable Screen Success

An all-star cast, including Claire Whitney, Wilda Bennett, George Cowl and E. J. Ratcliffe, appeared last night at the Utah theatre in a thrilling photoplay, "Love Honor and Obey," by Eugene Walter. The production proved to be one of the notable events of the season. Mr. Walter's mastery of dramatic technique was always evidenced as he developed the story founded upon Charles Neville Buck's novel, "The Tyranny of Weakness."

The acting was masterly. Miss Whitney, always popular with screen audiences, was cast as a wealthy New York divorcee, a role that gave splendid sweep to her emotional powers. Miss Bennett, Williams, brought beauty and real distinction to manner to her role with an undecorated intensity dramatic power. Mr. Harmon gave an unforgettable performance as her Puritanical father, and Kenneth Harlan carried just the right touch of gentlemanly charm to the role of the young New Yorker man in the divorce suit.

The story of a young girl, trapped into marriage by fraud which she discovers on her bridal night and which forces her to bolt her door against the bridegroom is one of the most engrossing that the screen has seen. The production, leaves nothing undone to heighten the drama. The excellent direction is credited to Leander Cordova.

"Love Honor and Obey" is a picture not to be missed, please last time today.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. From recent photo. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. To develop, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as profuse as in my youthful days.

That I now am so healthy and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious powder. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalke, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalke.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoo (which contains alkali) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalke contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

PROVE FOR YOURSELF

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."

ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and I was drugged to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."
